DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed on September 3, 2003 (paper No. 12) has been received and considered. By this amendment, claims 1-100 have been canceled, claims 101-127 have been added, and claims 101-127 are now pending in the application.

Claim Objections

- 1. Claims 102, 104, 106-107, 112, 115-117, and 122 are objected to because of the following informalities:
- a) In claim 102, line 2, the claimed limitation "a player" should be corrected to "the player".
- b) In claim 104, lines 1-2, the claimed limitation "the player" should be corrected to "a player".
- c) In claim 106, lines 3-4; and claim 107, line 3; the claimed limitation "the at least one selected payline" should be corrected to "at least one selected payline".
- d) In claim 112, line 5; claim 115, lines 3-4; claim 116, line 3; claim 117, line 3; and claim 122, line 4; the claimed limitation "at least one selected payline" should be corrected to "said at least one selected payline".
- e) In claim 112, line 8, the claimed limitation "said trigger" should be corrected to "said second triggering event".
- f) In claim 122, line 4, the claimed limitation "at least one payline" should be corrected to "said at least one payline".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

- 2. Claims 106-107 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
- 3. Claims 106 and 107, lines 1-2, recite the limitation "said assigning symbols to image sites along said bonus payline". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 5. Claims 101-105, 111-112, 116-122 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sugiyama et al (US. Patent No. 6,547,242).
- a. As per claim 101, 104-105, and 111, Sugiyama discloses a gaming method comprising displaying symbols on an array of images (Fig. 1), determining whether a winning combination is present along a payline (col. 8, lines 57-60), determining whether a trigger symbol is present along the payline (col. 8, lines 65-66), determining whether the trigger symbol is present at a trigger site of the array (col. 4, lines 47-50), and providing an additional award (col. 7, lines 64-67, and col. 8, lines 1-6). Sugiyama does not explicitly disclose providing a bonus event and an additional bonus event. However, Sugiyama discloses offering the player chances to win additional awards (col. 7, lines 64-67, and col. 8, lines 1-6). Further, providing bonus game as a chance for winning additional awards would have been well known to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace chances of winning of Sugiyama with a well known bonus game in order to allow the player to continue playing another game for another award.

- b. As per claim 102, Sugiyama discloses allowing the player to select a payline (col. 8, lines 52-54).
- c. As per claim 103 and 120, allowing the player to select a trigger symbol and increasing an award in a bonus event would have been well known to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.
- d. As per claim 112, 116-119, and 121-122, refer to discussion in claim 101 above.
- 6. Claims 106-110, 113-115, and 123-127 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sugiyama et al (US. Patent No. 6,547,242) in view of Darby (US 2003/0130024).

a. As per claim 106-107, and 110, Sugiyama discloses displaying symbols identical to the symbols on the selected payline (col. 6, lines 27-31). Further, Darby discloses permitting the player to select an image site along the bonus payline and replacing the symbol at each unselected image site with another symbol (paragraph 0033). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to allow the player to select an image site along the selected payline and replacing the symbol at each unselected image site as taught by Darby in order to increase the chance of winning for the player.

- b. As per claim 108, Darby discloses displaying cards (Fig. 8, paragraph 0025).
- c. As per claim 109 and 113-115, refer to discussion in claims 106 and 108-110 above.
- d. As per claim 123, refer to discussion in claims 101-102, 105-106, and 120 above.
- e. As per claim 124-125, refer to discussion in claims 115-116 above.
- f. As per claim 126, selecting a special symbol such as "Ace of Space" as a trigger symbol would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, since selecting a trigger symbol according to a designer's preference requires only routine skill in the art.
- g. As per claim 127, providing a draw poker game as a bonus game would have been well known to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.
